Wanco Expands to Meet Growing Customer Needs

Wanco Adds Second Manufacturing Facility

ARVADA, CO February 1, 2025 – Wanco Inc. recently announced the completion of a new 75,000 square foot expansion and renovation project to help support the growing demand for their power and lighting product lines. Headquartered in Arvada, Colorado, Wanco's addition increases its total manufacturing and production capacity to over 340,000 square feet.

Founded in 1984 and privately owned, Wanco enters its fifth decade in business this year. Wanco established its earliest success in highway and traffic safety with its groundbreaking arrow board products. Over the next forty years, as it grew to become the industry's leading manufacturer of portable traffic safety solutions, Wanco continued to expand its reach into additional industries, including public safety, power generation, portable lighting, security and surveillance.

Throughout its long history, Wanco has consistently demonstrated a strong commitment to serving its customers, exercising responsibility and setting an example of excellence in every aspect of business. Wanco remains focused on building best-in-class products that are easy to use, with unique features, superior functionality, and outstanding versatility and dependability.

About Wanco Inc.
